

Thousands Watch 21st Rodeo Parade Here

Sharp Quake Jolts Mojave

PASADENA (UPI)—A sharp earthquake with a magnitude of 5.5 on the Richter scale jolted the western Mojave Desert around Death Valley early today, authorities reported.

The tremor was recorded by the University of California Seismology Station at Berkeley, Calif., here and by Dr. Don Tocher of BOTH MEN SAID their instruments showed the shock to be of a 5.5 magnitude. Tocher's instruments recorded the quake at 12:13 a.m. (p.s.t.) and Richter's instruments showed it occurred at 12:13 a.m. (p.s.t.).

Richter placed the center of the quake about 170 miles northeast of this Los Angeles suburb, or roughly in the Death Valley area.

Both scientists said the quake was more powerful than the 1957 shock which caused extensive damage in San Francisco. The latter registered 5.3 on the Richter scale, Richter said.

Firemen dug through the ruins of the structures for at least two reported missing in the fire, which brought out a third of the city's fire-fighting force, shot flames 50 feet into the air and billowed clouds of smoke toward the Loop.

CHICAGO (UPI)—At least five firemen were killed and 11 injured today while fighting a spectacular fire that collapsed two big storage buildings near the Chicago Loop.

Firemen dug through the ruins of the structures for at least two reported missing in the fire, which brought out a third of the city's fire-fighting force, shot flames 50 feet into the air and billowed clouds of smoke toward the Loop.

AUTHORITIES SAID no reports of injury or damage had been made.

Law enforcement agencies in Fresno, Bakersfield and Barstow reported either feeling the shock or receiving telephone calls from sleepy residents who felt it.

The quake was not felt in California, southeast of here, nor in Needles, east of here on the California-Arizona border.

MYRTLE RIDLER, radio dispatcher and clerk for the California Highway Patrol in Barstow, said she felt the quake.

"I just felt it. This building shook. There was just one jar of the building. The building pitched forward and back and the desk went forward and came back," the dispatcher said.

Barstow police said it appeared to be "quite a shock."

THE VICTIMS were trapped by falling walls and roofing material while fighting the flames in 5-degree weather which froze most hydrants and forced firemen to pump water through trucks from the Chicago River.

The Cook County morgue said the dead were burned so badly definite identification was difficult or impossible immediately. One victim was tentatively identified as 1st Battalion Chief George Reese. Another was identified as Hillard S. Augustine and a third as C. F. Rauch.

ANOTHER VICTIM wore gloves with the name "Sliwinski" inside one of them. A fifth wore a wedding band ring with the initials "MJG" to REB."

Most of the injured were cut, bruised or burned. They were taken to two Loop-area hospitals.

Fire Commissioner Robert Quinn said he saw no other bodies in the wreckage but two firemen were reported missing.

JDA COUNCIL

Dr. John Slawson To Be Keynoter

Dr. John Slawson, executive vice president of the American Jewish Committee, and one of the nation's leading social scientists, will make the keynote address at the luncheon meeting of the second annual conference at the Joint Defense Appeal Western Council at 12:30 p.m., Saturday, Feb. 4, in the Hotel Riviera, the nation's oldest, largest and most experienced community relations organization.

DR. SLAWSON's address will precede an important speech to be delivered by Henry E. Schultz, ADL National Chairman, who will address the dinner session on Saturday, Feb. 4.

DR. SLAWSON, who is one of the leading authorities on problems of anti-Semitism and group relations, is expected to address some 300 members of the JDA Council who represent nearly one hundred communities in ten Western States.

South to Get New Coating Of Ice Today

New Mexico, Texas Hit by Snow, Ice, Cold

By United Press International

The second cold-weather storm of the week threatened the South with another coating of ice today.

The storm dumped up to 10 inches of snow in New Mexico and Texas Friday and Friday night, and then headed East in the tracks of its predecessor.

Weathermen issued glaze warnings from Texas to Mississippi and Tennessee.

SNOW, ICE AND cold were blamed for 58 deaths across the nation in the past four days. The death count included 24 in the South; 13 in Texas; 9 in Ohio; 5 in Indiana; 3 in New Jersey, and 1 each in Colorado, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania and New York.

Temperatures were below the frost mark from the Rockies to the Atlantic during the night except right along the Gulf Coast and in Florida. A fresh supply of arctic air invaded Montana and North Dakota, where the first signs of a warmup had appeared just 24 hours earlier.

SNOW AND SNOW flurries spread across the northern plains through the Great Lakes region and southeast into the Appalachians and South Atlantic Coast states. New snow brought the snow depth at Pellston, Mich., to 18 inches.

Double cold weather records were set at Evansville, Ind., and Windsor Locks, Conn. It was 10 below in Evansville, Ind., and Windsor Locks, Conn.

It was 10 below in Evansville at midnight, a record for Jan. 27, and 11 below 45 minutes later to set a mark for Jan. 28. At Windsor Locks, lows of 8 below at midnight and 12 below at 2 a.m. also set records for the two dates.

BASIL O'CONNOR IN VISIT, TELLS FOUNDATION AIMS

By PEYTON CANARY
Basil O'Connor, founder and president of the pioneering National Foundation, emphasized here that basic research "needs to be bigger than it ever was" to meet the varied challenges faced by the Foundation.

O'Connor reviewed the work of the Foundation — the first major publicly supported scientific research organization — during a writing of the programs of Dr.

rest visit here with his wife during a western tour on behalf of the current March of Dimes campaign.

THE NATIONAL Foundation reduced polio from a major national health threat to a minor problem in 22 years. Its basic research program included education of specialists in research and under-Jonas Salk and Dr. Albert B. Sabin which resulted in two approved vaccines against the crippling virus disease.

Now attacking the problems of orthopedic problems, birth defects, and continuing the work in virus disease research, the National Foundation is the most far-reaching of the publicly supported research and medical care groups.

"This is a big concept," O'Connor reported. He termed public support and understanding the first requirement for successful continuing research.

"IT ISN'T TRUE that all that is needed is money," he explained, warning that "we can't bank on time — we can't make promises." But reviewing the success of past research, O'Connor reflected that "when we first started on polio, even some scientists said we were foolish."

Work of the Foundation has included 8,918 scholarships and fellowships since 1938. The research work is guided by a 50 member board of top echelon American scientists and educators.

These are working groups," O'Connor explained. The board meets for five day sessions twice yearly, sifts each request for entrance to the school is on San Luis Rey Drive off East Ramon Road. A Signal Oil company service station is located on the northeast corner of the intersection.

Principal Sam Micelli reiterated that openings exist in the afternoon kindergarten sessions. Youngsters who were five years of age by Dec. 1, 1960, living in the Dream Homes, Thousand Palms and Desert Outpost areas are eligible for enrollment.

Washington (UPI) — What a difference three days make.

On Tuesday U.S. Air Force Captains John R. McKone and Bruce Olmstead were in a grim Russian prison where they had spent the last seven months.

FRIDAY THEY stood before the warm glow of a White House fireplace, their joyous wives at their sides, and sipped coffee and munched sandwiches with President Kennedy.

How did they feel about their dramatic deliverance?

"I don't think either one of us has anything to complain about one bit," McKone confided to a White House guest.

OLMSTEAD TOLD the President he was "feeling fine."

The airmen left the capital at 9:28 a.m. (e.s.t.) aboard an Air Force transport plane bound for Forbes AFB near Topeka, Kan., and their homes.

White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger ruled out any interview with McKone and Olmstead "in the best interests" of U.S.-Soviet relations. Thus, the fliers will not be able to disclose their version of what happened when their RB47 was shot down by Russian jets over the Barents Sea July 1.

248 Students Change Schools

The 248 pupils of the new Agua Caliente school, 30-800 San Luis Rey Plaza, will troop to their new school home Monday morning in the circular site in the center of the California Dream Homes development.

research funds, evaluating progress of projects in being.

The three types of polio, caused by separate viruses, were as unknown in 1938 as the unsolved problems facing the National Foundation today. The dreaded disease—which runs its ravaging course in seven days—has been reduced to an incidence of 1.3 per 100,000 population. The current rate is 91 per cent less than that of 22 years ago.

TO CONQUER THE problems now faced by the National Foundation, $45,000,000 is sought this year. In the fight against polio, $50,000,000 was spent for research, and more than $370,000,000 in patient care.

"This ratio of research to care costs, plus the fact that care cannot cure or prevent suffering, is a cogent argument for the approach of basic rather than categorical scientific research," O'Connor told The Desert Sun. The basic research technique has already added a wealth of knowledge in fields of virus studies. Some work is thought to be applicable to anti-cancer developments.

"Some virus may be helpful and probably are," O'Connor reported, adding "we still don't know much about them."

WORKING WITH A scientific team "which has read like the Blue Book of American research" since 1938, O'Connor is dedicated to his task of keeping the National Foundation effective.

"The fun of this work is the opportunity to try to spend money intelligently," he reflected.

With work in polio care still costing $20 million annually the National Foundation has taken on educational and basic research programs aimed at conquering orthopedic problems including rheumatoid arthritis, birth defects.

"More than 250,000 youngsters annually are born with birth defects, and more than 11 million Americans have arthritis," O'Connor explained.

THE PROBLEMS OF heredity, environment, virus attacks, radiation— "any lead we can find"—will be used and investigated in attempts to unlock the mysteries of pre-birth defects.

"These defects are both physical and those of mental retardation," O'Connor explained. He emphasized that "basic, rather than categorical research is used. And this leads to all avenues on the whole field of abnormalities."

IKE'S TROPHY INCLUDED IN CLASSIC SHOW

Dwight D. Eisenhower's personal trophy for the Palm Springs Golf Classic is now on display in Bullock's, where an entire window has been devoted to promotion of the $100,000 tournament.

More than 500 golfers, top professionals and amateurs, are scheduled to compete in the five-day, five-club tournament.

Mayor Frank Bogert today proclaimed Feb. 1-5 as Palm Springs Golf Classic Week.

Vehicle Tax Deadline Is Due Feb. 4

One Week Left For Registration Of All Vehicles

The deadline for 1961 motor vehicle registration is close at hand.

Department of Motor Vehicles officials today issued a reminder to California motorists that penalties for delinquent registration take effect after midnight of Saturday, Feb. 4. Local registration is at the Bank of America.

COMPETITION FOR the services of Department personnel in the final week of the annual registration period will be keen as the last-minute rush of late applicants for validated registration cards and rear-plate auto tabs gets under way.

At half time in the period, Jan. 19, just over three million persons in the state had registered. An additional four-and-a-half million car owners are expected to pay their fees in the final half of the period.

THE DEPARTMENT emphasizes the advantages of submitting the fees in person at one of its 138 permanent field offices, which handle all types of registrations; or at one of its temporary stations in 145 selected banks in metropolitan areas of the State—special courtesy offices authorized to process regular renewals only requiring presentation of fees with the punched card registration statements for 1961.

The Department also asked motorists to help keep their ownership records in order by noting any change of address on their registration statement cards when they pay their statutory fees for the year.

Bluebirds Vanishing

BOSTON (UPI) — Another vanishing American, says the Massachusetts Audubon Society, is the bluebird.

In Massachusetts, for example, the bluebird population has dropped nearly 75 per cent during the past year. A prime reason is that sparrows, starlings and swallows are establishing "squatters rights" in the bluebirds' nests, leaving them without a place to rear their young.

MARKETS FEATURE THRIFTY PRICES

The following guide to the fruits, onions, lettuce, turnips, potatoes and sweet potatoes and tomatoes. Also green peppers, cucumbers, broccoli, cauliflower, and radishes.

In the fruit line, there will still be good supplies of citrus, particularly oranges, grapefruit, tangerines and lemons, as numerous varieties of apples, also avocados, and bananas.

Leading plentiful in fish this week-end will be both fresh and frozen shrimp, scallops, fish sticks, and portions.

AMPLE SUPPLIES of beef, pork and eggs are being featured this week and shoppers will find lower prices on these items in some areas. Many beef and pork cuts are down 1 to 2 cents a pound in California markets, and eggs are 2 to 4 cents a dozen lower in Northwest markets.

VEGETABLE BINS continue to offer an interesting array of items. Among these are several types of cabbage, as well as celery, carrots, onions, lettuce, turnips, and radishes.

Palmeras Park 'Washed Clean,' Set for Contest

PALM DESERT — Sparkling skies after desert rain promised ideal settings here for the big Palmeras Park photo weekend, with two traditionally garbed Japanese models in settings of authentic Japanese gardens here.

Photographers seeking both color and black-and-white photos for the $400 total prize money contest gathered in Palmeras Park by 1 p.m. today for the models who posed to 4 p.m. Tomorrow, the petite kimono-clad girls provided by Palmeras Park president Ernst Off will pose from 10 a.m. to noon, and from 1 to 4 p.m.

ENTRY BLANKS FOR the contest, published in The Desert Sun Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, were available also at the Palm Desert and Palm Springs Chambers of Commerce, plus photo shops in the area.

For veteran builder Ernst Off, the 52-unit Palmeras Park development, with two entry parks owned by the Palmeras Park Club and some authentic Japanese house exteriors adapted to desert conditions, has been the culmination of a year of study.

To insure authenticity, Off toured Japan. The 110 feet by 35 feet entrance gardens—named Mountain Torrent and Placid Pond—are traditional classical gardens. Mountain Torrent is a direct adaptation of the centuries old Daisen In gardens of Daitokuji Temple grounds.

PD GROUP TO STUDY GOVERNMENT

PALM DESERT — The organization meeting of the Coordinating Committee for Study of Local Self Government will meet at 8 p.m. Monday in the Shadow Mountain Club here, the Chamber of Commerce office announced.

Delegates from each of the 10 organized groups in this growing resort community are expected to attend the study meeting.

Domestic production of crude oil, natural gas and condensates averaged 7,910,000 barrels daily during 1959, up from 7,518,000 barrels daily during 1958.

At half time in the period, Jan. 19, just over three million persons in the state had registered. An additional four-and-a-half million car owners are expected to pay their fees in the final half of the period.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Rumors are flooding the town that I'm in the know on the recipe for El Mirador's Coq au Vin; that I'm withholding information on it from my friends.

Folks, please believe me. The rumors are false. Nothing could be further removed from the truth.

Our famed chef, Edmond Johnsen, and I appreciate the terrific compliments reflected in the requests for the recipe. But all I know about Coq au Vin and its scrumptious sauce, marnazienne, is that it tastes greater than great.

The recipe is a deep, dark secret, having been handed down through generation after generation in the La Haute Savoie sector of the French Alps. Mr. Johnsen served his apprenticeship as chef at the Hotel De la Care in the town of Cluses there. That's where he came into possession of the recipe—a treasure he intends to guard with his life.

Chef Johnson simply refuses to discuss the recipe. Even with me. He'll tell you the dish is his favorite way of preparing chicken. He'll disclose how much cooking time it requires. But what he puts into it and the sauce that complements it, never. He'll blow his top if you dare suggest he reveal it.

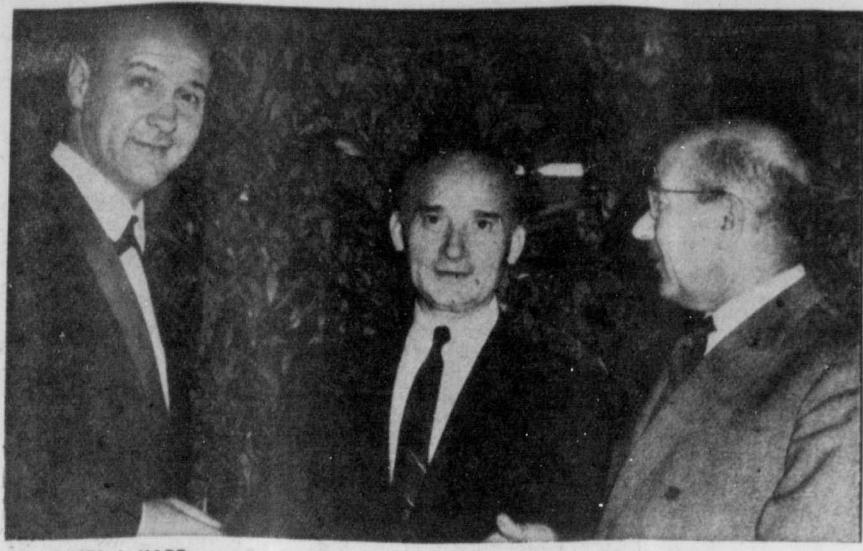

So please don't ask him. Chef Johnson's top is too crammed with ideas for goodies for your dining pleasure in the Silver Palm Room. We just can't afford to disturb his thinking machine.

All we can suggest is that you come to El Mirador and try Coq au Vin yourself. Perhaps you can figure out the secret. I hope somebody does and lets me in on it. You'll find me dancing or tapping my toes to the dancing rhythms of Eddy Howard and his 15-piece orchestra any night you can make it. Here's hoping I'll be seeing you soon.

As ever,

DR. JAMES J. KARR, center, exchanges words with Dr. Jean de Phillippe, secretary of the 34th International Dental Congress meeting in Paris, left, and with Dr. Raymond Devin, professor of prosthetic dentistry at the Paris Dental Institute, during the recent conclave.

Dr. Karr, now a Palm Springs dental surgeon, spent much time learning of Dr. Devin's revolutionary new methods in dental cosmetology. (Studio Harand Photo)

DR. KARR EYES NEW METHODS

Dental 'Cosmetology' in Surge

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is the second of two articles dealing with the attendance at the 34th International Dental Congress in Paris by Palm Springs dental surgeon Dr. James J. Karr.)

By GEORGE LAINE

Every time a lawyer speaks to a jury, a clergyman steps to his pulpit, a judge addresses a court, a TV personality moves into the video "living-room" — each time, in fact, anyone steps before a large assemblage of people — their success or failure is measured to large degree on the impressions, visual and oral, they make.

In our time, these impressions have promoted great successes and spelled dismal failures.

DURING THE RECENT 34th Annual International Dental Congress meeting held in Paris, Palm Springs dental surgeon Dr. James J. Karr took advantage of the opportunity to expose himself to the most enlightened thinking in contemporary dentistry on the subject.

Already regarded by many of his colleagues as something of an expert in this field himself, the Palm Springs delegate to the international conclave conducted an almost naive search among the other delegates for access to their innermost secrets in the field of dental cosmetology and phonetics.

That the search was worthwhile is best ascertained by Dr. Karr's own evaluation.

"I HAD A CHANCE to meet — and to observe — Dr. Raymond Devin," Dr. Karr explained, "who is perhaps one of the most highly-respected men in the dental world today."

"What he is doing now is beyond the simple explanation," said the dental surgeon, his hands spread expressively and his gesture indicating there were no words for the telling of the doings of Dr. Devin.

Briefly, Dr. Karr observed Dr. Devin greet a patient — a prominent Parisian radio — TV personality — whose teeth had reached such a state of disrepair that the man was threatened with complete loss of his oral structure. (The effect of such a situation is easily understood. Without his own teeth, with an untried denture, the personality felt he would be unable to retain his post in the communications media.)

"I HAVE HANDLED a number of similar patients," Dr. Karr explained, "but when I observed Dr. Devin work with this patient, I became a very humble man."

Again in brief, the Parisian dentist worked painstakingly in the patient's facial muscle structure, conducted an oral speech clinic with the patient and spent literally hours in convincing his subject that the denture would not only be as good as the original teeth but would improve the general appearance as well.

"The highest function of art, in my belief, is the concealment of it as great art," Dr. Karr said. "This, Dr. Devin accomplished easily and with great dispatch."

DR. DEVIN'S WORK, broken down into English from the paper in native French by Dr. Karr, is scheduled for early release in a forthcoming issue of the American Dental Association Journal, thereby making Dr. Devin's technique available to the ranks and file of America's progress-seeking dental surgeons.

The work of Dr. Devin — observed at first hand by Dr. Karr — still must fit within the broad framework of Dr. Karr's own ideas and attitudes on dental cosmetology.

"Actually," Dr. Karr explained, "an important phase of dental cosmetology and dental phonetics is the psychological awareness — and confidence — of the patient."

"Nothing is more ravishing than the smile of an attractive woman when she has healthy teeth. Nothing is more attention-compelling than the smile of a man whose teeth are in good repair.

"But the opposite also holds true."

WHAT THE DENTAL surgeon is saying is that malformed or missing teeth leave a painful expression of negligence on a person.

"Worse," says Dr. Karr, "is the psychological scar they leave on the individual."

Although Dr. Karr agrees that the retention of teeth wherever

Setback to Net Wider Fairways

In an effort to get wider fairways on the Palm Springs Golf Course, the City Council this week approved a front yard setback variance to the San Gabriel Construction Company.

The variance would allow the construction of fairway homes closer to the street, and in turn would widen the fairways.

Under the approval the development would not need curbs and gutters in unit one or two.

Decision May Lessen Tension

If the decision of the Palm Springs city council to meet four times a month will lessen the tension between the press and public on the one side and the council on the other, it would seem to be a wise move.

The tension has been present over the many "conference sessions" and the understandable wish of press and public to know what's going on.

Some thinking, including that of City Attorney Jerry Bunker, is that these "conference" sessions are privileged and that press and public are not entitled to attend, to know, or to report . . . the Brown anti-secrecy law notwithstanding.

The Brown Act specifically exempts personnel sessions of public bodies from the open meeting requirements. But in its other provisions it is quite clear. In stating its policy the Brown Act declares:

"In enacting this chapter, the Legislature finds and declares that the public commissions, boards and councils and other public agencies in this state exist to aid in the conduct of the people's business. It is the intent of the law that their actions be taken openly and that their deliberations be conducted openly."

The people of this state do not yield their sovereignty to the agencies which serve them. The people, in delegating authority, do not give their public servants the right to decide what is good for the people to know and what is good for them not to know. The people insist in remaining informed so that they may retain control over the instruments they have created."

Now, lawyers may quibble over specific language in the provisions of the Brown Act which spell out its scope. In fact, the Act is still in process of amendment so as to make its provisions less subject to this pettifogging and its perimeter more restricting.

But, to the lay citizen and his guardian of his right to know—the press—the definition of policy of the Brown Act is quite clear.

It doesn't imply and leaves no room for inferences that meetings of public bodies shall be open to the public only when unavoidable.

Thus the efforts of our public servants should be directed toward the end of opening more and more meetings, not attempting to find loopholes by which the intent of the law can be circumvented.

By and large, this is the feeling of our public servants here. The increase in frequency of council sessions demonstrates this. On trial until May 15, we hope it's practical for council and the public.

Steppingstone...Not Gravestone

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Former Vice President Nixon, like all departing dignitaries, made several "farewell" appearances last week — in the Senate, on the Inaugural platform, in the parades — but the one he may remember best and most fondly was a selective press conference by invitation only.

It was held in Room P-53 of the Capitol Building, a small, elegant, chandeliered, parlor-like office with lofty, unobstructed views.

THE MEETING was memorable enough because it provided, as the Vice President said, "the finest view in Washington" — a sweeping vista down the Mall, revealing the Washington, Lincoln and Jefferson monuments and the Robert E. Lee mansion on the distant Virginia shore.

Nixon spoke wistfully of this fine spectacle. He said that he would like each of us — perhaps 20 in all — to feel that this was an individual interview with him, in this room where many of us had sat alone with him over the past eight years.

BUT THE VISUAL and sentimental aspects, while delighting the eye and warming the heart, are not, in my opinion, the paramount reason why this particular farewell should linger in Nixon's heart. I hope he will remember the occasion as perhaps his finest one, in terms of warmth, frankness, information and presentation — and also one that will serve as a step-pingstone, not a gravestone, of his career.

Few Americans, I think, regard Nixon as an idealist. But had they attended this meeting, and if they should read some true accounts of it, many Americans would say that idealist is the right word for this man.

AFTER A LONGISH vacation ("30 days, if I can stand it"), Nixon will go to Los Angeles and take a law firm position with a flexible schedule which allows him to decide how much time to devote to the firm's business, how much to his own outside activities.

And there were salaries from firms which wanted him to stay in Washington or New York and become an influence man with the Federal Government, where, of course, Nixon knows all the ropes and "everybody" of importance.

ALSO IN THE high figures were offers made by book publishers for his "inside" memoirs which would involve intimate, often top - secret conversations with President Eisenhower. Nixon declined this quick and easy cash-in. He did so on the high principle that anything said by a President under privileged conditions should never be repeated, and should come from the President himself, if from anybody.

Finally, Nixon said he had received several offers to become president or chancellor of various universities. All these jobs would be well-paying, but Nixon again acted on the highest principle in declining. He said he felt the universities wanted him as a fund-raiser, rather than as an educator. He didn't like the subterfuge. He refused to take a position where he would be righteously resented by the faculty.

NIXON WALKED away from this farewell press conference leaving three distinct impressions behind him. He is a wonderful guy. He is a man of the highest principle, bigger than any defeat.

Although calling the 1960 election a "closed book," Nixon did so well, took his tight defeat with such good grace, that the Republican cries for a "rematch" in '64 will be very hard to refuse.

Grandest Larceny in History

WASHINGTON — The grandest larceny ever committed against the citizens of the United States took place during the 16 years from 1938 through 1954. We wuz robbed.

The thieves were so numerous as to be faceless. Moreover, about this grand theft, the most important event having been World War II.

TO UNDERSTAND the enormity of this thing it is necessary to accept for purposes of calculation that the U. S. dollar in 1939 was worth 100 cents in purchasing power.

During the 16 years afore-mentioned ending on Dec. 31, 1954 the value of that beautiful buck rotted to just more than 50 cents. By the end of 1954 the dollar had lost 48.3 cents of its 1939 purchasing power.

AN INDIVIDUAL who put $100 in the bank in 1939 had by the end of 1954 the value of that beautiful buck rotted to just more than 50 cents. The banker both referred to the sum as $100. The income of a $100-a-month pensioner likewise had rotted to $51.70 in that period. Anyone's life insurance policy was hit the same way. The man or woman on a fixed income of any kind was robbed.

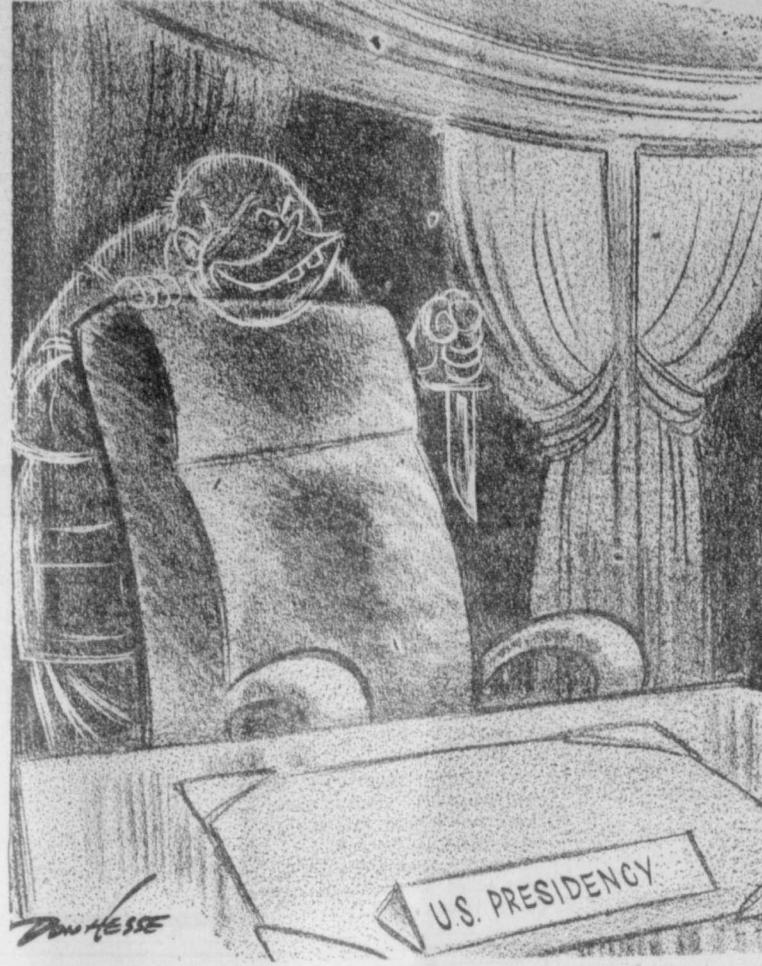

That is why this inflation of the currency, this rotted value of the dollar is the grandest larceny. There is no other larceny to compare with it.

BY THE END OF 1954, World War II was almost 10 years in the past. The Korean War was merged by an uneasy truce into the Cold War. With these conditions going for him and a sincere desire to protect the value of the citizens' money, Dwight D. Eisenhower was able to apply effective brakes to run away currency inflation.

Ike held the dollar line pretty well. From the end of 1954 through May of 1960, dollar rot was limited to 4.7 cents. The Eisenhower administration inherited a 51-cent dollar from the Truman administration and bequeathed to the Kennedy administration a dollar worth about 47 cents.

DICK WEST:

This Side of The Sun

By Phat

You either have
To walk in mud
Or else step out
Into the flood.

That slight dampness we experienced the other morning is back of the above thought.

WHEN THE CITY built that new parking lot in the 200 block on Indian Avenue, they not only provided a place for automobiles to rest but also a place for pedestrians to walk.

They put in a sidewalk, closing one of the last sand traps in the downtown area.

That leaves one stretch of sandy walk close in — just south of McCallum - Tahquitz.

NOW, GETTING sand in your shoes, as the expression goes, may be all right.

They say, you know, that once you get sand in your shoes, you'll never stay away from Palm Springs for long.

As I walk, sand may be o.k.

When it rains, this sandy stretch gets gummy. It doesn't rain here very often, to be sure, but when it does, it rains hard.

INDIAN AVENUE becomes a torrent in a few moments.

So people have their choice, plow through the mud or slosh through the flood.

When they do the latter, thoughtless autoists speed by, sending up a spray about as far as reaching as a hydroplane on Salton Sea.

This is no longer the little village it was. If people want to get sand in their shoes, they need not travel far from downtown.

JUST A WEE SPEC can make a big difference. I have received two or three communications assailing my arithmetic and suggesting I rejoin the Little Monsters in class.

That little spec I refer to is a period used to terminate sentences or designate percentage.

The other day I wrote 30.4 miles at .081 cents per mile is $2.46 and in the various steps of processing the copy from typewriter to printed page, that dot got lost. It came out 304 miles.

And I'm hearing about it.

YOU TAKE that same little spec, and put a tail on it and it becomes a comma.

When one of these is misplaced, it can raise hob, too.

Like the time the man in the midwest wrote:

"Goodby, God, I'm moving to Texas."

A Texan saw that and moved a comma.

So it came out:

"Good, by God, I'm moving to Texas."

I'm sure that is ancient enough so that the past two generations haven't heard it.

LISTENED to a perpetual complainer gripe about business the other day. It can't be so bad.

Because shortly after, in a local restaurant, I overheard the owner phone a travel agency to inquire about the boat fare for three to Honolulu next summer.

Animals Are Gaining

WASHINGTON — I spent so much time trying to keep up with the Kennedys recently that I fell behind in some of my other pursuits.

It's a good thing I finally became winded and dropped out of the presidential chase. The pause for breath enabled me to catch up with what has been going on in the animal kingdom.

I FIND THAT while we human beings were preoccupied with the inauguration and all of that, our animal friends — if they are still our friends — gained a lot of ground on us.

It appears they are rapidly closing the gap and in some respects have already overtaken us. Unless we get moving soon, we will lose the advantage we now hold. It may already be too late.

I WOULD FIRST call your attention to the recent revelation that the animal kingdom, working out of sight along the ocean bottom, has produced some creatures that have brains but no vertebrates do not possess.

I think it was very clever of Snodgrass to notice this, but I wish he wouldn't be quite so blunt about it.

THE NATIONAL Geographic Society reports that these creatures are being hailed as a major biological discovery of the 20th Century, and no wonder. We have nothing to match them.

What we have done instead is produce a large number of people who have mouths but no brains.

THE SEA CREATURES have been biologically classified as "pogonophores." The human types have been socially classified as "crashing bores."

Obviously, the animal kingdom has the edge on us here. Any creature that has a brain but no mouth is in a good position to some day inherit the earth. And need not travel far from downtown.

Kindest regards and thanks from the Exchange Students, the student committee and the adult committee.

THE HUMAN RACE also takes a beating in a report by the Smithsonian Institution on the studies of Dr. R. E. Snodgrass, an honorary research associate. Snodgrass concludes, perhaps not too surprisingly, that the head of an insect is in some ways superior to the head of a man.

For one thing, you and I and Snodgrass must take a bite or a sip of our food before we can tell what it tastes like. At the restaurants where I eat, this is known as doing things the hard way.

THE TASTE ORGANS of insects, on the other hand, are outside the mouth, very conveniently in some cases on the feet, so that an insect can select its appropriate food without first taking it into its mouth." Snodgrass says.

... it is evident that a number of advanced ideas have been incorporated in the organization of the insect head that . . . give the insects advantages that we vertebrates do not possess."

I think it was very clever of Snodgrass to notice this, but I wish he wouldn't be quite so blunt about it.

Because the issue of war and peace is involved, and the survival of perhaps the planet, possibly our system, and therefore this is a matter of primary concern to the people of the United States and to the people of the world."

LOS ANGELES—Harry Polinsky who was charged with robbing a bank of $2,264 in retaliation for the closing of another bank where he had deposited his life's savings of $2,119.

"I'm sorry I took that extra $144.81. The government didn't owe me that. But the government owed me the rest — it's just that I seem to have some trouble collecting."

CHAPPAQUA, N. Y.—Tommy Manville on learning that his ninth wife is suing him for $1 million:

"I am very discouraged that she didn't sue me for $5 million."

LONDON — Ireneth Barnes, English educator warning of the dangers from the exploitation of romantic love by movies, TV and other entertainment media:

Kindest regards and thanks from the Exchange Students, the student committee and the adult committee.

Dear Abby...

... by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: For a 23-year-old college graduate I guess I'm pretty stupid, but here's my situation: Last year I met a very attractive man of 29. He told me from the start he'd been keeping company for several years with a woman a little older than himself, and he had no intention of severing their relationship. From all appearances their "relationship" included everything but the marriage license.

I have fallen head over heels in love with him and would give anything to have him for myself. He says he "loves" me but he loves her, too. He sees me on Tuesdays, Fridays and every other Sunday. It kills me to know he is with her when he's not with me. I can't give him up and can't live without him. Is there a solution?

HOPELESSLY IN LOVE

DEAR HOPELESSLY: You CAN live without him and you'll probably have to, so save yourself further agony and call it quits while you still have your youth. Your Romeo wants to eat his cake and have it, too. Give him the "frosting" he so properly deserves.

DEAR WORRIED: Investigate "Al Anon" — a branch of Alcoholics Anonymous, whose purpose it is to teach the families and friends of alcoholics how to cope with them.

Eldridge Fund Gets Big Boost

By GEORGE LAINE

I think Gale Eldridge would have been more than a little moved if he could have known how this community responded to the situation created by his death on Jan. 18.

Cut down by a burglary suspect's bullet during an investigation in Section 14 on that night, Eldridge left a widow, three young children, and a shocked group of fellow officers in the Palm Springs Police Department.

THE POLICE ASSOCIATION, which operates as a separate entity, went into action on the morning of Jan. 19, making funds available to the fatherless family. "We have approved the use of our funds to whatever degree necessary to insure the comfort of the widow and the children," said T. M. Aitkin, association president.

But the load appeared too big for a group of policemen, whose dues in the association come from paychecks that by 1961 standards represent 1951 wages. That's where the community came in.

THE FORMATION of the Gale Eldridge Memorial Fund Committee had to happen. The campaign was going in a variety of directions. The Chi Chi wanted to produce a show. Sam Levin wanted to host a fund-raising dinner at the Biltmore. And there were other donations of events, other ideas.

On Thursday night of this week, the second of those two benefit performances went up at the Biltmore, a $10 per plate dinner for 150 people with the entire $1,500 going to the fund.

It started off with Larry Foy, Joe Spata, Raul and Gustavo, The Villagers Quintet, Tex Kidwell and the Crosby Brothers in the dining room phase of the program, then moved into the Biltmore's Garden Room where Bobby Ramos got things started and was followed by Lewis and Sanchez, Jeri Sullivan with Jack Pfeiffer, Mickey Finn with Duke Mitchell, Pepe Callahan and Julio Corona. Arthur Blake, Al Anthony, Tom Russell's Trio with Dorise Van, Holly Winter and June Schuster with her trio.

THE SHOW ALSO had its sober moments.

Pat O'Dea read a letter from Police Chief Gus Kettmann, who was in on a statewide meeting of the California Police Officers Association and couldn't attend. Kettmann wished the assemblage well and thanked the performers and the audience for their aid in our hour of tragedy."

It was Aitkin. I feel, who wrapped it up for me. Said he:

"Pat's thanked you. Gus has thanked you. Bob Sandeffer has thanked you. For myself, for the association and every officer who wears a police uniform in this town—I can't thank you enough."

Anna Lisa in the that same cast, essayed the professor's role with a completely different eye. Instead of the rather heavy - handed context, Lederer gave the work, the professor suddenly became a rather droll and human person.

"IT'S PHOTO TIME," YELLED Duke Mitchell and he and Mickey Finn both turned camerawards and struck zany poses during Thursday's fund-raising benefit at Biltmore Hotel which sent more than $1,500 into the Gale Eldridge Memorial Fund. The action came during the Finn-Mitchell rendition of "Sonny Boy," regarded by many as one of the most laugh-filled satires seen on area stages in recent years. (Desert Sun Photo).

PEPE CALLAHAN, WITH JULIO CORONA, delivered a series of his better-known vocal efforts, halted in mid-song at one juncture to urge attendees to throw money on the stage instead of applauding his efforts. Callahan was also featured with Mitchell and Finn in an ear-splitting rendition of "Old Man River."

New Star Brightens Deep Well's Play

"The Marriage Go - Round," which has verged on varying degrees of unhappiness all week, suddenly became a taut, happy experience for a near capacity house in the Ferrall's Playhouse at Deep Well last night — all because of a new and joyous quality inserted by a hurriedly captured replacement for ailing star Francis Lederer.

Lederer, who had played the show Tuesday and Wednesday despite serious sickness, was finally prevented from going on with the show on Wednesday night when his doctor ordered him to sit it out.

IT WAS A BLESSING in disguise.

Hohenlohe (She's the former Hon. Echelle Wilder) of Salzburg, Austria . . . will be checking into El Mirador tomorrow . . . The Prince's ancestral castle now houses the swank Schloss Mitterzell Club . . . which has reciprocal privileges with Mt. Kenya Safari Club . . .

The Fred Warnings . . . who are staying at Bermuda Dunes . . . attended the Safari Room opening at El Mirador . . . and dropped into the Silver Palm Room for dinner . . . and to pay their respects to Eddy Howard . . .

Isabelle and Don Cameron hosted a group of friends for cocktails Saturday evening at their Indian Wells fairway home. The group (all staying at Desi Arnez' Indian Wells hotel) included Drs. and Mmes. John McGonigle and Bill Ross and Mr. and Mrs. Don Privett of the Pacific Palisades, who have just returned from an extensive tour of Europe.

Also present were, Dr. Millard Ottinger of San Francisco, who motored in from Arizona after completing a sight-seeing junket to the Orient, and Helen and Pat Ritchie, down from Reno to spend the weekend in their Indian Wells home.

Palm Springs Chapter of WAIF decided at its last meeting . . . to undertake a day nursery for working mothers . . . a project which they have had under consideration for some time . . . Mrs. Frank Bennett is chairman for the day nursery project . . . which will be underwritten by WAIF . . . Half of the money raised by them this year will be allocated for this purpose . . . complete details are still in the planning stage . . .

Bud and Phyllis Garfield are houseguesting her brother, Wayne Hirst and his fiancee, Nadine Rapaport from Beverly Hills, in their Mirage Road home this weekend. The engaged couple attend UCLA. The group plans a day of water skiing at North Shore Beach and Yacht Club, where the Garfields have their boat moored.

Sisterhood Planning Barbecue

Plans for a big barbecue will be unfolded at the Sisterhood luncheon meeting of the group on Wednesday, February 1, at 12:30 p.m. at the Jewish Community Center.

Refreshment chairman in charge of the luncheon is Frieda Rosenbaum. Hostesses who will assist her are Mae Heller, Leah Hoffman, Shirley Kline and Georgia Hayes. Decorations are being handled by Ruby Gilher.

Emma Stone, hospitality chairman, will have Sophie Baum, Kate Neishuler and Anita Dubin to help greet the members and guests. Lee Levin, program chairman, has planned a social afternoon for this meeting.

Ann Cobin, president, will report on the overall plan for the Annual Sisterhood Barbecue which has been scheduled for March 12 at the Center. Hermine Rosin has been named chairman of the af-

Has Party on First Birthday

Mrs. Lee Walls hosted a birthday party for her year-old daughter, Joy, at their El Cielo home Monday. The youngsters were served sandwiches, ice cream and cake while the mothers enjoyed a salad luncheon.

Natal day guests were Mrs. Ken Herman with daughters, Maureen and Kerry; Mrs. Don Wexler with son, Gary; Mrs. James Schlecht with daughter Tracy and Mrs. Lou Mawby with daughter Mary.

JUST ANNOUNCED is the wedding of Carol Ann Wagner to Nathan David Whitman IV in late December, at Carson City, Nevada. Now honeymooning in San Francisco, the Whitmans will be at home in Pasadena next month.

Whitman-Wagner Wedding Announced Here This Week

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Wagner of 725 Sunny Dunes, sent out announcements this week of the marriage of their daughter, Carol Ann, to Nathan Davis Whitman IV of Pasadena. The wedding took place in late December at the Carson Wedding Chapel in Carson City, Nevada, with Reverend Adam Garfield Shriner officiating.

The bride wore a short white peau de soie gown with appliqued silk chiffon flowers that matched her halo, and was attended by the groom's sister, Thericia Lee of Carson City. Howard Stewart of Palm Springs attended the groom. As the bride's father was unable to attend the ceremonies, the bride's mother drove north to act in his place and give her daughter away.

The groom is the son of Nathan David Whitman Jr., of Pasadena, and Mrs. Bonny Whitman of Carson City. Recently graduated from Los Angeles State College, he was affiliated with Alpha Kappa Psi, national honorary business fraternity. The bride will graduate from the same college next semester, where she is affiliated with Delta Phi Upsilon.

The Whitmans are honeymooning in San Francisco and will be at home in Pasadena after February 3.

Son Born to The Bob Sanfords

A first son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Bob Sanford of Melrose Avenue, Cathedral City, at Riverside Community Hospital, January 25. The nine pound, two ounce, son has been named Robert.

Mrs. Sanford, a secretary at Southland Escrow, was feted Sunday afternoon when Mrs. Edward Penn, Jr. held a baby shower in her Palo Verde home. Among the guests were the maternal and paternal grandmothers, Mmes. Elmer Johnson and Stanley Sanford of Beaumont.

Slip a box of bicarbonate soda into hubby's hunting pack. Sprinkled on the camp fire, the soda keeps the fire burning at an even pace. Dumped generously over the embers, it extinguishes them.

Plan roasting time so the holiday turkey or other fowl will be done 20 to 30 minutes before serving. This rest period helps make the meat juicy and carving easy. It also allows time to make the gravy.

I NEVER WATCH them myself," the taffy blonde actress said. "I haven't got time."

"But we try to keep the show believable. Naturally, every show ends with a cliff-hanger of some sort, and we have to elaborate a little bit on reality. But our audience is the most loyal in television."

"After all, women don't want to tune in to watch me cook potatos just like they do!"

DIANNE, WHO bears a strong resemblance to Brigitte Bardot as respects to higher levels of show business, if for no other reason than to escape her killing schedule. She must memorize 30 pages of dialogue each night for "live" production the following day.

AMONG the most tear-provoking of the bunch is "Full Circle," the story of a 21-year-old Maryland girl who gives advice to women twice her age on how to run their lives.

THIS IS SOMETHING of an affront to housewives in that the girl, Lisa Crowder, gets into more hot water than her viewer's aprons.

Thus far her checkered career has included singing in night clubs, selling pot holders, destroying her best friend's marriage and running away with a convict. And this has been going on for almost 200 episodes.

Starring as Lisa Crowder every day, five days a week on CBS-TV is Dianne Cannon, a girl who doesn't dig soap operas.

She works 10 to 12 hours daily and lives in dread of "clubs" which are common on live shows.

"THE WORST THING that happened was a segment in which the actor I was starring with went from his first speech in an 11-

first 10 seconds. So I had to improvise for five minutes while we were on the air," Dianne recalled.

"Then there was the time a lamp fell on me . . . and once the scenery crashed over behind us. I could go on and on, but I hate to think about it."

WHEN asked for specifics, Dianne charmingly changed the subject.

THOUGH SHE ISN'T a soap

opera fan, Dianne defends the art form.

"I don't care what people say,

our show is adult. We accomplish in one day what the old night dramas, like 'Climax' used to do in three weeks."

"People in TV are scared of the word 'soap opera.' They think it means 'Will John Leave Mary?'

Well, there's much more to it than that."

When asked for specifics, Dianne charmingly changed the subject.

La Quinta May Get Eisenhower Drive on Road

A hearing date was set by the Board of Supervisors this week for two proposed name changes for roads in the desert area, one to change the present Avenida Serra in La Quinta area to Eisenhower Drive in honor of ex-president Eisenhower a frequent visitor in the resort community, and the other involving a revision of a subdivision unit at Thunderbird View Estates.

Opposition has arisen to the proposed La Quinta change which was requested by subdivider and supported by the chamber of commerce. Letters from Mrs. Henry T. Read and Dr. H. M. Weber express shock that a street named in honor of Father Junipera Serra, influential in early California history, should be changed. Both change the name is proposed for commercial purposes.

The Thunderbird change involves Thunder Road and Bird Lane and no opposition is anticipated.

Jan Bart Stars In Bonds Program

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — Comedian Jan Bart will highlight a "Bonds for Israel" program at 8 p.m. Sunday in the Jewish Community Center here. Israeli bond drive chairman Benjamin Katz announced.

The drive, program, emphasizing the 13th year of the Israeli nation, is admission free, sponsored by the Jewish Community Center and the congregation of Nove Sholem. Working with Katz are co-chairmen Sol Winter and Sam Goldman, assisted by Rabbi Isaac E. Bloch.

AT INTRA-SERVICE CLUB

Ex-Actress Urges Income Tax End

Corinne Griffith, onetime screen beauty now dedicated to a one-woman campaign to eradicate individual federal income taxes, urged delegates to a session of the Inter-Service Club of Palm Springs to join her in the battle.

Miss Griffith, whose studies on income taxes have consumed a huge portion of her time for the past seven years, told the 129 assembled persons at the Tennis Club that their personal action was necessary to abolish the income tax.

CHARGING THAT the 16th Amendment actually violated the letter and intent of the Constitution, Miss Griffith spelled out in forceful detail the manner in which she has organized her drive and told of the assistance she has received from highly authoritative sources.

She cited letters from former Sen. Robert A. Taft, from General of the Army Douglas MacArthur, from Sears Roebuck board chairman Robert E. Wood and from Clarence Francis, chairman of the Citizens for the Hoover Report.

MISS GRIFFITH ALSO took a free-swinging swipe at U. S. foreign aid, Congressional waste, kick-backs, governmental competition with private business and a wide variety of other related subjects.

To cure the ill, Miss Griffith proposes the absolute abolition of the personal federal income tax. "I have petitions here that are available to you," she said. "Get as many people to sign them as you can."

She said that four states—Texas, Nevada, Wyoming and Louisiana—have already passed resolutions that include abolition of the individual federal income tax.

"I can only make the speeches," Miss Griffith concluded, "it's up to you."

A LARGE NUMBER of those in attendance took petitions following Miss Griffith's speech.

The five Palm Springs service clubs in attendance were the Soroptimist's Club, acting as hostess organization, and the Kiwanis, Lions, Optimists and Elks.

Soroptimists President — and Inter-Service Club chairman — Gurli Gilbert greeted the large assemblage. Eileen Hair introduced Miss Griffith.

possible is the preferable course for all patients, he is nevertheless cognizant of the fact that diseased teeth not only bring pain in themselves but can also activate other ailments as well. (Dr. Karr listed as examples such pathological conditions as arthritis, neuritis, some heart and kidney diseases and variety of gastro-intestinal disorders.)

IN THE PARTICULAR study with Dr. Devin's patient in Paris, Dr. Karr observed the psychological scar at close range.

"This man felt he had to lose his job, his position in society, his home, his living standard — in fact, everything. He was one of the most despondent persons I have ever seen."

Dr. Devin's work with the man consisted not merely of dental surgery, oral cosmetology and phonetic instruction. It also included a large measure of psychological indoctrination — the bringing of the patient to the realization that his newly-acquired teeth were not only as good as the faulty ones he had yielded — but actually a great deal better from every aspect.

IN SPITE OF this comparatively "easy" way out of dental problems, Dr. Karr still believes — as do a great many of America's better dentists — that most teeth can be saved. And, furthermore, should be saved.

Careful studies can produce bridge work and porcelain caps that re-create the dental beauty that some people have not known for years and which others have never known.

Saund Warns On School Aid Cutback

Elimination of Two Public Laws' Will Affect Both Counties

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Congressman D. S. Saund warned today that school districts of Riverside and Imperial counties are facing a potential 76 per cent cut in Federal funds that they receive for children of Federal employees.

The cut will come on June 30, when Federal contributions under Public Laws 815 and 874 will be eliminated for children whose parents work but do not reside on Federal property.

The 29th DISTRICT congressman said he has contacted the new Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare and the chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee to urge that these funds be continued.

He said that Riverside County funds would be cut from $980,500 to a mere $195,000. Imperial County would be cut from $87,000 to $55,000.

The potential slash is so severe," Saund said, "that 17 of the 24 Federally-impacted school districts in Riverside County would lose their aid entirely. These are Alvor, Banning, Beaumont Unified, Corona Unified, Elsinore Union, Elsinore Union High, Glen Avon, Highgrove, Murrieta, Pedley, Perris Union High, San Jacinto Unified, Temecula Union, Union Joint, Val Verde and West Riverside. In Imperial County El Centro school district would lose its funds.

MISS GRIFFITH ALSO took a free-swinging swipe at U. S. foreign aid, Congressional waste, kick-backs, governmental competition with private business and a wide variety of other related subjects.

Pennies . . .

COULD be the difference between buying in a good neighborhood and one not so good! Let us acquaint you with property values . . . This particular 3 bedroom 3 bath Architecturally designed home is snuggled close to the foothills in a sheltered wind-free part of town. It has so many charming appointments; such as beamed ceilings, picture windows, a corner fireplace and a life-time tile roof — all of which blend in so beautifully with the rolling contours of the land — for one of the most picturesque settings we know of. Selling furnished, too! — for only $24,500.

Child Evangelism Executive Speaks Here on Tuesday

The Rev. Riedar M. Kalland, executive director of the Southern California Child Evangelism Fellowship, will speak at the mid-winter conference of the Desert Child Evangelism Fellowship, to be held in the Community Church of Palm Springs, Tuesday, Jan. 31, from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Other speakers include Mr. and Mrs. Sol Ediger of Oregon and Roy Mathison, well known artist.

A workshop of visual aids will also be held, demonstrating the making and use of flannelgraph backgrounds and figures, pictures, and lights to make stories interesting to children.

Child Evangelism Fellowship is an interdenominational organization, cooperating with the local churches, and conducting week-day Good News Clubs after school hours in neighborhood homes.

The public is invited to attend the day and evening sessions of this conference, according to Mrs. Orville H. Fee, director of the local chapter.

COMPREHENDING GOD TOPIC FOR SCIENTISTS

Continuous benefits are available to all through a fuller comprehension of God as Love. This idea will be enlarged upon at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson - Sermon entitled "Love." John's Gospel records that when Jesus healed a certain man . . . which had an infirmity thirty and eight years," he said, "The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do." Later he declared, "If a man love me, he will keep my words: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him." (5:5, 19; 14:23)

Mary Baker Eddy writes in "Sci-

'What Is Power' At CV Christian

INDIO — "What is Power?" is the sermon title announced by the Rev. David T. Kagiwada for the 11 a.m. morning worship service Sunday at the Coachella Valley Christian Church, Avenue Fifty at Jackson.

On Wednesday, Feb. 1, the monthly fellowship dinner will be held at the church at 6:30 p.m.

The sermon will conclude the series on faith and life and will point to the spiritual resources that are available for the handling of the problems of life.

Two Services Set At PD Community

PALM DESERT — The regular morning worship services will be held at the Palm Desert Community Church this Sunday morning at 9:30 and 11:00, with the Rev. William A. Dunlap delivering the sermon at both services. Special music will be offered at the 11 o'clock service, by Mrs. Roger Harlow, who will sing "O, Lord, Most Holy," accompanied by Mrs. Paul Stillman, organist.

ARNOLD ASKS 'HAVE YOU TRIED PRAYER?'

CATHEDRAL CITY — The Rev. James W. Arnold, pastor of the Community Church of Cathedral City will use "Have You Tried Prayer" as his sermon topic at the 11 a.m. service Sunday. The text will be, "Lord, teach us to pray" — Luke 11:1.

The Chancel Choir, under direction of Harry Tomlinson, will sing the anthem.

Church school will be held at 9:30 a.m. for all ages. A nursery will be provided for the morning service.

St. Paul's Set For Oregon Bishop's Talk

Rt. Rev. Carman To Preach Twice Here Sunday

The Rt. Rev. James W. F. Carman, D. D., the Bishop of Oregon, will be the preacher at both the 9 and 11 o'clock services in St. Paul's in the Desert Episcopal Church Sunday.

He will also celebrate the Holy Communion at the 8 a.m. service that day.

BISHOP CARMAN, a long time friend of the Rector, the Rev. Dr. Fredrick A. Barnhill, will be accompanied to Palm Springs by Mrs. Carman. They hope to greet many Oregon friends while here.

For over 10 years Bishop Carman and Dr. Barnhill were pastors of neighboring Churches in Phoenix, Ariz., and were active together in many community enterprises. Dr. Barnhill, a convert to the Episcopal Church, was the first man ordained by Bishop Carman to the Episcopal Ministry.

DR. BARNHILL and delegates John M. Connell, Frank W. Camp, F. Gillar Boyd, Col. Fred J. Elser, Jacques Crommell and Hills Peterson will attend the annual convention of the Episcopal Diocese of Los Angeles at the Hotel Statler in Los Angeles on Tuesday and Wednesday.

On Wednesday evening, Feb. 1, at 8 p.m., Dr. Barnhill will begin a series of eight Inquirer's Classes for persons interested in confirmation or who wish to learn more about the teachings and practices of the Episcopal church.

RELIGION IN AMERICA

Who Hears Preacher Preach?

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

Every Sunday morning, 250,000 ministers stand in the pulpits of America's churches and preach 500 million words of sermons at 50 million pairs of ears.

This vast outpouring of sermonology ought to have a great impact. It is the most concentrated dose of exhortation and instruction to which church members are exposed. For many, it is the only 20-minute period in the entire week which is consciously set aside for serious religious thought.

UNFORTUNATELY, AS every realistic clergyman knows, only a small percentage of any congregation actually absorbs the message the preacher is trying to deliver. For the rest, the carefully-prepared sermon goes in one ear and out the other, barely brushing the brain.

It is customary to blame the minister for this breakdown of communication between pulpit and pew. The church-goer who "didn't get anything out of the sermon" rarely stops to think that he may have failed, rather than the preacher.

BUT THERE IS A DUAL responsibility in all forms of human communication. No writer can communicate an idea without the help of a thoughtful and intelligent reader. And no preacher can get his thought across without the active cooperation of a congregation which is really listening.

Modern psychological research has exploded the notion that listening is a natural endowment, possessed by everyone except the small minority who are deaf.

IN A RECENT ARTICLE for Presbyterian Life magazine, Prof. George S. Odiorne of the University of Michigan offered some practical suggestions to churchgoers on how to become better listeners to sermons.

Communion Due At Community

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed at the Community Church of Palm Springs in the duplicate morning worship services at 9:30 and 11 o'clock.

Dr. James Blackstone will bring a brief communion meditation and new members will be received into the church at the 11 o'clock service. The Chancel Choir, under the direction of Elmer Young, will sing, "Divine Redeemer" by Gounod, accompanied by Lois Lux on the organ.

Economy With Status

On the sunny side of the valley, up out of the wind, only 15 minutes out of Palm Springs, is a unique community of economy minded but discriminating week-end and refined home owners. A private estate open only to owners and their guests, (a feature usually only found in expensive developments). The existing 20 homes are owned by doctors, engineers, college faculty members, retired business executives and contractors. You may build your home or buy a 2 bedroom, 720 to 800 sq. ft. home for $4,998 to $5,900. There is no need to buy a costly lot. Use the new safe recorded 99-year lease plan, rent only $12 mo. 1/4 acre lots, utilities, good FREE TV. Use your capital to build. Save 1/2 the cost of your home, better economy, more privacy than a trailer. Save the cost of your home out of park rents. For FREE DETAILS write or drive out Ramon Road to:
